RI TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2020

WHEB Asset Management

About this report

The PRI Reporting Framework is a key step in the journey towards building a common language and industry standard for reporting responsible investment (RI) activities. This RI Transparency Report is one of the key outputs of this Framework. Its primary objective is to enable signatory transparency on RI activities and facilitate dialogue between investors and their clients, beneficiaries and other stakeholders. A copy of this report will be publicly disclosed for all reporting signatories on the PRI website, ensuring accountability of the PRI Initiative and its signatories.

This report is an export of the individual Signatory organisation's response to the PRI during the 2020 reporting cycle. It includes their responses to mandatory indicators, as well as responses to voluntary indicators the signatory has agreed to make public. The information is presented exactly as it was reported. Where an indicator offers a response option that is multiple-choice, all options that were available to the signatory to select are presented in this report. Presenting the information exactly as reported is a result of signatory feedback which suggested the PRI not summarise the information. As a result, the reports can be extensive. However, to help easily locate information, there is a Principles index which highlights where the information can be found and summarises the indicators that signatories complete and disclose.

Understanding the Principles Index

The Principles Index summarises the response status for the individual indicators and modules and shows how these relate to the six Principles for Responsible Investment. It can be used by stakeholders as an 'at-a-glance' summary of reported information and to identify particular themes or areas of interest.

Indicators can refer to one or more Principles. Some indicators are not specific to any Principle. These are highlighted in the 'General' column. When multiple Principles are covered across numerous indicators, in order to avoid repetition, only the main Principle covered is highlighted.

All indicators within a module are presented below. The status of indicators is shown with the following symbols:

Symbol	Status
✓	The signatory has completed all mandatory parts of this indicator
☑	The signatory has completed some parts of this indicator
🔒	This indicator was not relevant for this signatory
-	The signatory did not complete any part of this indicator
⚠	The signatory has flagged this indicator for internal review

Within the table, indicators marked in blue are mandatory to complete. Indicators marked in grey are voluntary to complete.

SG 01.4

Describe your organisation's investment principles and overall investment strategy, interpretation of fiduciary (or equivalent) duties, and how they consider ESG factors and real economy impact.

The investment philosophy of the fund is built around sustainability, growth, quality and valuation. The fund is focused on nine sustainable investment themes; five environmental (cleaner energy, environmental services, resource efficiency, sustainable transport, and water management), and four social themes; (education, health, safety, and well-being). Individual stocks are selected through a 'bottom-up' stock-by-stock fundamental and rigorous research process.

The fund is exclusively focused on companies providing solutions to sustainability challenges. This creates an investment universe with superior growth prospects.

Higher quality companies are more likely to capture growth opportunities and we believe that a company's environmental, social and governance (ESG) profile in an important and under-appreciated indicator of quality.

We also believe that engaging with companies to challenge them on a range of ESG issues, and analysing their responses, further adds to our knowledge and understanding of a company.

We believe a long-term investment horizon (>4 years) enables us to take a considered position on stock valuations and allows us to benefit from the thematic opportunities and ESG performance that drive the long-term performance of companies.

SG 01 CC	Mandatory to Report Voluntary to Disclose	Public	Descriptive	General

SG 01.6
CC

Indicate whether your organisation has identified transition and physical climate-related risks and opportunities and factored this into the investment strategies and products, within the organisation's investment time horizon.

Yes

Describe the identified transition and physical climate-related risks and opportunities and how they have been factored into the investment strategies/products.

The WHEB investment strategy was first launched in 2005. Climate change and wider environmental resource scarcity was a critical issue in the original conception and design of the investment strategy. The focus was and still is squarely on climate-related investment opportunities with five of the nine investment themes in the strategy relating to climate change. These cover Cleaner energy, Environmental services, Resource efficiency, Sustainable transport and Water management. In each case we are looking for companies whose products or services are helping to reduce or eliminate carbon emissions by transitioning to an alternative technology. At the end of December 2019, 4% of the strategy was invested in cleaner energy companies, 12.7% was invested in companies involved in lower carbon transport, 23% in companies helping to improve energy and wider resource efficiency in the economy (housing, manufacturing etc.), 7% in companies involved in reducing pollution and 7.6% in companies involved in water management. The remainder c.46% of the fund is invested in companies that fit our social themes in healthcare, education, safety and well-being.

In addition to the strong focus on climate change mitigation through the reduction of carbon emissions. We also consider climate adaptation as an investment theme. At the end of 2019, we had two companies that we consider to be providing solutions to climate adaptation representing approximately 5% of the strategy.

We have also reviewed the portfolio to consider exposure to transition and physical climate-related risks. We review the scope 1 and 2 carbon footprint of the fund on an annual basis and have an extensive engagement programme focused on companies that represent the largest source of carbon emissions (and hence of transition risk). We are actively encouraging these businesses to set aggressive net zero carbon reduction targets.

We have also assessed the portfolio's vulnerability to physical risk. The largest source of physical risk associated with climate is from coastal flooding. According to this analysis, this potentially could affect approximately 3.5% of the portfolio. We plan to systematically address this issue with exposed portfolio companies during 2020.

No

SG 01.7
CC

Indicate whether the organisation has assessed the likelihood and impact of these climate risks?

Yes

Describe the associated timescales linked to these risks and opportunities.

We believe we are already seeing the realisation of investment risks and opportunities related to climate change. Over the period 2011-2019 we saw annualised revenue reductions to fossil fuel businesses in the MSCI World of approximately 3%. In contrast companies that we qualify as having exposure to WHEB's sustainable investment themes (including the five environmental themes) saw annualised revenue growth of over 11%.

We anticipate that these risks and opportunities will continue to strengthen as the economics of low carbon technologies continue to improve, as consumers increasingly favour sustainable businesses and as governments implement more aggressive policy tools to drive the acceleration of the transition. The pace of this transition is however very difficult to forecast with some scenarios anticipating a rapid policy response as the negative impacts of climate change are increasingly felt and recognised while others see a more gradual change in policy. Given policy commitments that have been made in many jurisdictions during 2019 we expect to see a more rapid policy response over the coming five years to 2025.

We do not publicly disclose any investment policy components

SG 02.3

Additional information [Optional].

Our investment strategy including the environmental and social themes that we invest in are provided on our website (with the link provided). This also represents the 'screening' policy - as we do not invest outside of these themes (though we frame this as 'screening in' rather than 'screening out'). We also comply with the Eurosif Transparency code (since 2012) which is available at <http://www.whebgroup.com/media/2020/01/2020-WHEB-AM-Transparency-Code-.pdf>. This provides very detailed explanations of our policies and approach.

Our approach to engagement is contained in the responsible investment policy, in our UK Stewardship Code Disclosure Statement and also in the Eurosif Transparency Code document.

We also have an independent advisory committee which meets every four months to review the holdings in the strategy in order to assess whether the holdings are consistent with the strategy's investment philosophy. We publish summary minutes of these meetings which are available on the WHEB website.

We publish the full list of holdings in the strategy along with a short description of the investment rationale. This is updated every four months and is available from our website at <http://www.whebgroup.com/investment-strategy/fp-wheb-sustainability-fund/fund-holdings/>

We also publish detailed quarterly reports on the strategy as a whole and on key issues relating to sustainability. This also includes a summary of our engagement activity and the alignment of the strategy with the UN SDGs (<http://www.whebgroup.com/investment-strategy/fp-wheb-sustainability-fund/quarterly-reports/>). A more detailed appendix contains information on each of the votes that we have cast during the quarter along with a rationale on why we chose to vote as we did (<http://www.whebgroup.com/investment-strategy/fund-governance/engagement-and-voting-records/>).

SG 03.1 Indicate if your organisation has a policy on managing potential conflicts of interest in the investment process.

Yes

SG 03.2 Describe your policy on managing potential conflicts of interest in the investment process.

WHEB is committed to carrying out its business in compliance with the highest standards of corporate governance and integrity. We apply a consistent and transparent approach to the management of conflicts of interest. The central objective when reviewing which companies we engage, and how we engage and vote, is to act in the interests of clients and to treat all clients fairly. A copy of WHEB's conflicts of interest policy is available on request.

We will seek to minimise the incidence of material potential conflicts of interest, monitor such potential conflicts of interest, and prevent potential conflicts from becoming actual material conflicts. However, conflicts of interest may arise in the context of corporate governance and wider stewardship activity. Where a conflict arises or is likely to arise and we are not able to effectively manage that conflict, we will consult WHEB's independent Investment Advisory Committee to assist us in deciding how best to resolve and address the conflict. Subject to confidentiality obligations, the Investment Advisory Committee's views are published in summary minutes on the WHEB website.

In addition, we publish voting and engagement activity on a quarterly basis, providing additional transparency on how we exercise our stewardship responsibilities.

Given the focus of our business, we consider the vast majority of our activities to be consistent with a responsible investment framework. Specific objectives that we review at least quarterly include voting and engagement that we do with portfolio companies, impact measurement and reporting, publication of quarterly reports on our website including commentary on how ESG issues and impact have been factored into the investment strategy, and the regular publication of blogs and other commentary on the evolving nature of impact investment. We also organise regular events for clients and the market in general on positive impact and responsible investing.

For board-level roles that have climate-related issue oversight/accountability or implementation responsibilities, indicate how these responsibilities are executed.

Climate change is an integral part of the discussions of WHEB's senior decision-making body and features regularly as part of deliberations on the strategic outlook of the business. The vast majority of this discussion is focused on transition risks and opportunities for the WHEB business and in particular changing appetites among asset owners and other investors for investment strategies focused on sustainability.

Direct physical risks and opportunities related to climate change are extremely limited given WHEB has one office based in Central London. Management of energy procurement and the use of 100% renewable electricity as well as offsetting travel-related carbon emissions is handled by our Finance, Operations and Compliance Manager. WHEB has also set a Net Zero Carbon target to be achieved by 2025. We are finalising our action plan for achieving this which will be published in 2020.

In contrast, indirect risks and opportunities we consider to be substantial and are covered through the investment decisions taken by the investment team. These decisions are subject to monthly oversight by the Investment and Risk Committee which is composed of the investment team as well as the Chief Risk Officer and the non-executive Chairman. In addition, there is an independent Advisory Committee composed of four external members (including climate change experts) and our non-executive chairman. This group meets every four months to scrutinise the composition of the fund including how it is positioned on climate change related issues. The minutes of this meeting are posted on our website at <http://www.whebgroup.com/investment-strategy/fund-governance/investment-advisory-committee-minutes/>

For management-level roles that assess and manage climate-related issues, provide further information on the structure and processes involved.

Operational risks associated with climate change are managed by WHEB's Finance, Operations and Compliance Manager and Data Analyst with oversight from the Head of Research.

The investment risks and opportunities associated with climate change are managed by the investment team. Five of the nine WHEB investment themes are directly related to climate change (cleaner energy, environmental services, resource efficiency, sustainable transport and water management). In each case the investment strategy is focused on identifying companies that sell products and services that help mitigate carbon emissions or help society adapt to a changed climate. Individual analysts with oversight from the Head of Research and Portfolio Manager are responsible for conducting this analysis along with an assessment of stock level risks associated with climate change.

Our strategy is invested in nine different investment themes with 5/9 focused on environmental themes. We are structurally absent from fossil fuel exploration and production and have minimal exposure to any kind of fossil fuel activity. In contrast, our exposure to sectors providing solutions to climate change and other environmental issues represents more than 50% of the portfolio. We calculate that £1m invested in the fund in 2017 led to the net avoidance of 800 tonnes of CO2e emissions.

SG 13.4 CC	Describe how your organisation is using scenario analysis to manage climate-related risks and opportunities, including how the analysis has been interpreted, its results, and any future plans.
-------------------	--

- Initial assessment

Describe

Our investment strategy is predicated upon a progressive shift to a lower carbon more sustainable economy. We believe that we are still in the early stages of this shift. For example, over the last seven years, we have seen a shift away from fossil fuel businesses and towards, in particular, technology businesses. The weighting of the 'Energy' Sector in the S&P 500 has gone from 13.8% to 5.3% since 2009. While Information Technology has gone from 15.9% to 20%.

So while we have seen a shift away from fossil fuels in the market, we are yet to see a shift into low carbon sectors, at least in the US. Industrials, which is where many low carbon businesses get categorised, only rose from 9.2 to 9.5% of the S&P 500 Index.

It is our view, that we will see an acceleration in the shift to lower carbon businesses and industries in the coming years as critical technologies such as renewable energy and electric vehicles reach commercially attractive price points and as governments, regulators and consumers shift to support these new technologies and business models.

We believe that the principle risk to this scenario is that regulators and other market participants are initially slow to act. It is then only latterly through the experience of more severe climate impacts, that regulators and other stakeholders implement policy tools and frameworks that force markets and businesses to reduce carbon emissions. These responses are likely to be taken in haste and will drive inefficient responses. In the process, this may create unintended consequences for the businesses that we invest in.

We also regularly assess our investment strategy for exposure to transition and physical risk. We believe that both of these risks are management and in any case significantly below the risks experienced by the wider market due to a much lower carbon intensity.

- Incorporation into investment analysis

Describe

The thematic structure of the fund means that we are entirely absent from carbon-intensive parts of the economy including those areas that are most at risk from a transition to a low carbon economy.

We are also structurally focused on those parts of the economy such as renewable energy, energy efficiency in buildings and manufacturing as well as sustainable transport (eg rail, buses and electric vehicles) and water management that we believe are well-placed to enable and benefit from a transition to a low carbon economy.

- Inform active ownership

Describe

We take active decisions to vote all our sharedholdings. We routinely vote to support shareholder resolutions that support further action on climate related issues and regularly co-file shareholder resolutions to encourage companies to take more proactive action on these issues. We have also had an active programme of engagement focused on the principle sources of carbon emissions in our portfolio. We are specifically encouraging these higher carbon footprint businesses to set aggressive carbon reduction targets including ideally a net zero carbon target for as soon as possible, ideally by 2030.

Describe

As described above, WHEB has one investment strategy that is entirely focused on companies that provide solutions to sustainability challenges including climate change. Our investment strategy as a business will always be focused on companies and other financial products that provide solutions to sustainability challenges including climate change.

However, we are also alive to the risks that climate change represents for our portfolio. This includes both transition risk and physical risk. Transition risk is primarily limited to risks associated with an increasing cost of carbon (technology risk is largely mitigated by our focus on companies providing solutions to climate change). In addition we have assessed the portfolio for exposure to physical risks which are limited primarily to the risk of coastal flooding. We plan to engage portfolio companies to better understand their exposure and efforts to mitigate this risk.

The nine themes consist of five environmental themes covering: cleaner energy, environmental services, resource efficiency, sustainable transport and water management and four social themes: education, health, safety and wellbeing. I have classified the entire strategy as a climate change resilient strategy because it is entirely absent from heavy carbon footprint sectors like oil and gas and mining as well as aviation.

We have published a scope 1 and 2 carbon audit. We have also developed our own methodology for assessing indirect exposure to fossil fuel industry activity through the provision of products and services to this end market (for example environmental consulting services, wastewater treatment, logistics etc.).

In 2017 we developed a new methodology for quantifying the carbon emissions that were avoided through the sale of products and services by companies in the portfolio.

In 2019 we have also used third party analysis to inform our understanding of transition and physical risks from climate change.

Indicate whether climate-related risks are integrated into overall risk management and explain the risk management processes used for identifying, assessing and managing climate-related risks.

- Processes for climate-related risks are integrated into overall risk management

Please describe

Our risk management process related to climate change is largely a function of our thematic structure which means that we only invest in companies that provides solutions to social and environmental challenges. We do not consider any carbon-intensive businesses to fit this category and so we have no exposure to these parts of the economy (eg fossil fuel ownership, development, extraction or processing), no airlines, no major automobile OEMs, no fossil-fueled utilities and no petrochemical businesses.

Beyond this, risk is managed very much through a bottom-up process of stock analysis. For example, there are companies that while they may offer a solution to one sustainability challenge, this may expose them to risks associated with climate change. Our main approach here is to understand the underlying exposure of the business and to avoid this where possible. For example, we have elected to avoid investing in businesses such as environmental consulting firms where they have exposure to oil and gas end markets.

Other businesses such as industrial gas companies or recycled cardboard manufacturers may have significant carbon footprints associated with their energy use. While in these cases, the products that these businesses supply provides very significant carbon benefits (in both cases more than offsetting their own carbon emissions) we nonetheless engage very actively with these businesses to encourage them to reduce their energy use or shift to renewable resources wherever possible.

- Processes for climate-related risks are not integrated into overall risk management

Indicate whether your organisation, and/or external investment manager or service providers acting on your behalf, undertake active ownership activities to encourage TCFD adoption.

- Yes

Please describe

We have encouraged reporting in-line with the TCFD in our engagement with companies. We do also routinely encourage investee companies to improve disclosure and management of climate related issues. Given the focus of our strategy, this is more commonly on fully exploiting the business opportunities related to the low carbon transition.

We have also engaged with service providers such as our Authorised Corporate Directors (ACD) and Management Company to encourage them to set targets and reduce their own carbon emissions.

- No, we do not undertake active ownership activities.

SG 18.1	Indicate whether any specific features of your approach to responsible investment are particularly innovative.

Yes

SG 18.2	Describe any specific features of your approach to responsible investment that you believe are particularly innovative.
----------------	---

We believe there are four areas where we are innovative compared to the market as a whole.

The first is that, as an investment house, WHEB is entirely focused on investment strategies that benefit from a greater focus on sustainability and the shift towards more resource efficient, sustainable economies. Every investment made by every one of our strategies is focused on sustainability.

Secondly, while we believe that other managers have individual parts of our process, we believe we are particularly innovative in combining both a 100% focus on sustainability themes with genuinely integrated ESG research.

Thirdly, we believe that we are more transparent and accountable about our investment philosophy and practice than any other managers. We were the first asset management business to publish an impact report, we have an annual conference for our investors, we publish detailed quarterly voting and engagement reports, we publish our portfolio holdings on our website with a short explanation of why we hold each stock and this is updated every four months, we have an independent advisory committee and even publish the summary minutes of these meetings.

Most recently, we have also launched an 'impact calculator' on our website that allows our investors to plug the level of investment that they have in the fund and which then calculates the positive environmental and social impact that is associated with that investment. We believe we are the only fund management business to provide a bespoke tool that allows investors to do this.

Fourthly, we practice what we preach in our own business. We are independently owned and were certified as a 'B Corporation' with a legal framework that requires us to consider the interests of all of our stakeholders including our employees, clients, the local community and our suppliers as equally important to our business as our shareholders.

Describe your organisation's approach to ESG incorporation and the reasons for choosing the particular strategy/strategies.

Our investment strategy is focused exclusively on companies providing solutions to sustainability challenges. The strategy covers nine investment themes with five environmental (cleaner energy, environmental services, resource efficiency, sustainable transport and water management) and four social (education, health, safety and wellbeing) themes. We've constructed a universe of about 1000 companies that derive more than 50% of their revenues from these themes. We then select a portfolio of about fifty stocks from this universe. We utilise ESG data to inform our selection of these stocks. Fundamentally, we believe that analysing ESG issues alongside more 'traditional' financial ones enables our analysts to develop a more complete view of the quality of any individual business. Crucially this analysis is combined with a relatively long-term holding period (on average c.5-7 years). Having a long holding period allows us to benefit from the better ESG performance displayed by companies in our portfolio.

If assets are managed using a combination of ESG incorporation strategies, briefly describe how these combinations are used. [Optional]

Our thematic approach is defined by nine investment themes: five environmental themes (Cleaner Energy, Environmental Services, Resource Efficiency, Sustainable Transport, Water Management) and four social themes (Education, Health, Safety, Well-Being). All our investments must have at least 50% of their revenues coming from one or more of these themes. The average exposure to the themes across the entire fund is approximately 85%. We have developed a bespoke tool (the 'impact engine' that we use to assess and rate the intensity of the positive impact that is generated by companies.

In addition, having found companies that are exposed to these sustainability themes, the ESG integration strategy as described above, is intended to help us identify the higher quality and ultimately best performing companies.

We have been explicit with them that we value this research and that is in part why we have selected them. -----------------	------------------------------------

Each of our investment team members is responsible for c.10-15 stocks in our portfolios or on our watch list. Each analyst is responsible for analysing ESG issues relating to the company. For company voting each responsible analyst makes a recommendation on how s/he suggests we vote. This is then circulated to the team for comment and discussion before the final voting position is agreed and actioned by the responsible analyst. So the investment team itself is responsible for voting. Furthermore corporate governance is an explicit part of our fundamental analysis process and so the issues are fully integrated into investment decision-making.

Company engagement is also driven by each individual analyst on the stocks that they cover. We strongly believe that the analyst that covers the stock is best-placed to assess the critical engagement issues for each individual stock, marrying ESG analysis with fundamental investment analysis. The process is overseen by Seb Beloe WHEB's Head of Research and Ted Franks the Portfolio Manager.

LEI 07.1	Indicate the type of sustainability thematic funds or mandates your organisation manages.
	<input type="checkbox"/> Environmentally themed funds <input type="checkbox"/> Socially themed funds <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Combination of themes
LEI 07.2	Describe your organisation's processes relating to sustainability themed funds. [Optional]

Our business has a single investment strategy which is entirely focused on sustainability themes. The philosophy underpinning the fund is that attractively valued, high quality companies which provide solutions to society's most pressing needs and challenges will generate superior financial returns over the long term.

We focus on a set of critical environmental and social challenges confronting society and seek to invest in companies that supply solutions to these challenges. The scope of the fund is specialist, but is spread across nine diverse themes including five environmental themes (cleaner energy, environmental services, resource efficiency, sustainable transport, water management) and four social themes (education, health, safety, well-being). This means that the fund has exposure to multiple sources of growth, but can also avoid areas that might become overvalued during market cycles.

We have selected the nine themes because we believe they represent parts of the market that will grow more quickly than the market as a whole on account of underlying structural trends in the global economy. We are therefore only interested in companies that have genuine exposure to these themes and set a threshold of having at least 50% of their revenues or profits coming from these areas. We capture evidence to support our decisions on whether companies fit our themes or not and share this openly with our investors. Across the fund as a whole the exposure to the themes is typically greater than 80%.

In addition, when considering whether a particular technology fits within our themes, we undertake a broad holistic assessment to determine the extent to which the technology adequately mitigates wider environmental and social impacts. It is our view, that in an increasingly resource-constrained world, technologies that fail to address these wider impacts will not receive sustained support.

LEI 08.2 Additional information. [Optional]

We use the SASB framework to help us focus our ESG analysis on the issues that are most material for the business that we are analysing. We strongly believe that it is important for investors to focus on ESG issues that are material to the way in which the company under analysis creates value. We therefore focus on a relatively short list of ESG issues to understand how these get managed and how this impacts on the company's operational execution and franchise value. The precise composition of the ESG issues varies significantly across different types of business.

LEA 06.2

Indicate the escalation strategies used at your organisation following unsuccessful engagements.

- Issuing a public statement
- Filing/submitting a shareholder resolution
- Voting against the re-election of the relevant directors

- Submitting nominations for election to the board
- Seeking legal remedy / litigation
- Reducing exposure (size of holdings)
- Divestment
- Other; specify

No

LEA 06.3

Additional information. [Optional]

We approach escalation on a case-by-case basis. Typically we will aim to collaborate with other investors, including in co-filing shareholder resolutions before voting against Board Directors. However, in some cases we may also vote against Board Directors alongside these other actions. Where these efforts are unsuccessful, we may also look to reduce our exposure and/or ultimately divest our holdings. This is usually only done in cases where our broader conviction (of which engagement success also plays a part) in the stock is reduced.

Collaborative engagements	<input checked="" type="radio"/> Yes, systematically <input type="radio"/> Yes, occasionally <input type="radio"/> No

LEA 07.4 Additional information. [Optional]

We believe that engagement is a core part of the investment process and consequently should be managed directly by the investment team. Any insights from engagement can be fed directly back into the overall conviction and rating of a company and it also ensures that companies aren't subject to mixed messages from asset managers.

We have developed a bespoke research management system that captures engagement activity as part of the core investment research process. This is logged by the individual analyst and then shared across the rest of the investment team.

The questions above are written as if engagement has to be done by a separate team. We clearly think this is a suboptimal approach and should not be the base-case in analysing engagement activities of investors.

LEA 12 Mandatory Public Descriptive PRI 2

Approach

Based on

- The service-provider voting policy we sign off on
- Our own voting policy
- Our clients` requests or policies
- Other (explain)

Voting is based on WHEB's voting policy. This is generally aligned with our research supplier although is stricter in several areas.

- We hire service providers who make voting decisions on our behalf, except in some pre-defined scenarios where we review and make voting decisions.
- We hire service providers who make voting decisions on our behalf.

LEA 12.2	Provide an overview of how you ensure that your agreed-upon voting policy is adhered to, giving details of your approach when exceptions to the policy are made.
-----------------	--

The implementation of the voting policy is overseen by the investment team which includes our Head of Research, Seb Beloe, who is responsible for defining the voting policy on behalf of the organisation. We share our detailed internal voting guidance with our independent advisory committee.

Voting on individual companies is conducted by members of our investment team on the stocks that they cover. Where there is a controversial vote we discuss this as an investment team and agree our position collectively.

-----------------	-----------------------------------

We supplement the service providers policy with a range of more stringent voting policies on specific issues such as audit and board director independence, ESG-related shareholder resolutions and CEO remuneration. These are broadly based on the AMNT's Red Lines Voting Policies.

ESG audit of holdings

CM1 03.4

Describe the process of external/third party ESG audit of holdings, including which data has been assured.

We have an Independent Advisory Committee that meets every four months and formally reviews the strategy and its individual holdings to make sure that they are comfortable that every investment meets the definition of 'providing a solution to a sustainability challenge'. The members of this committee are listed on our website at <http://www.whebgroup.com/about-us/advisory-committee/>.

Furthermore, the minutes of the Advisory Committee meetings are also published on our website so our investors (and anyone else) can see the discussion that accompanies their review of the strategy's holdings. These minutes are available at: <http://www.whebgroup.com/investment-strategy/fund-governance/investment-advisory-committee-minutes/>

Finally, we also published the full list of holdings including a description of which sustainability investment theme they fit into. This is published every four months after the Advisory Committee meeting. These are available at: <http://www.whebgroup.com/investment-strategy/fp-wheb-sustainability-fund/fund-holdings/>
